You can easily download All Video Downloader Pro in minutes. Slow down the speed of your WiFi when you go on vacation A broadband router is a solid investment but if you're anything like me you're constantly on the go and forget to turn off your WiFi connection once it's hooked up and you're all set for the day. This could lead to some big bills due to your internet provider accidentally charging you for the data you use in those lazy days of lounging around on your couch watching

Netflix. Since you're going to be away for a while it might be a good idea to lower the speed of your WiFi connection or turn it off completely so you can save money. This can be done by using a simple free app called WiFi Speeder. Basically all you have to do is to set it up, open the app, select the speed level, then save your settings. WiFi Speeder will then start scanning for WiFi connections as you go throughout the day, slowing down the speed of your connection when there aren't any active connections or it's otherwise not in use. You can then easily set it up again when you get back to your home, and set it back to the speed you wanted when you go on vacation. You're also free to choose the level of encryption you and download any movie, video, or other media, and the program takes care of the rest. It will then get converted into the variety of popular formats used today, such as MP4, AVI, MOV, WMV, for more user friendly viewing. The resulting file is installed as a virtual drive on your computer and so you can watch the video on whatever program you want. Popcorn Time is a small but highly efficient, simple to use software. Other programs that promise to download videos at lightning speeds, look just like a scam. However, Popcorn Time is a freeware, which is why it uses a very small amount of hard disk space. It has also been tested, it works exactly as expected. The main flaw is that in order to get the software, you need to make some sort of account with the manufacturer, which is a little annoying for those looking for something free and open source. What is Popcorn Time? Popcorn Time is a video downloading application, in other words, it lets you download free videos. It uses a technology known as software decoding, which converts the video to a format that can be read by many different media players including YouTube and Vimeo. More specifically, the process involves streaming and downloading subtitles. One of the main downsides of this software is that if you want to download the content you have to use a Web browser, and the result is a file that can only be watched with this program. What you will get is a fast but still limited solution to the problem of downloading videos quickly. How does it work? The installation process is super
